Managing Student Attendance

Student attendance is monitored through SEQTA. The morning roll must be completed by 8.40am, all students arriving after this time are to sign in at the office. Parents are to ring the school before this time to advise if children will be absent on that day. The children are then required to bring a written note on their return which is retained as part of the school records for accountability purposes. If students do not return with a written note, teachers forward an absentee note to the parents requesting an explanation for the absence. Parents who have not rung on the day to advise of a child's absence are contacted by SMS or telephone. The afternoon roll must be completed immediately after lunch. If a child leaves school, the parent must sign them out in the office with a valid reason.

Summary of NAPLAN Results

Brighton CPS figures include those children who were classified as Special Needs, Language Background Other than English, on intervention plans and/or had modified class programmes.

Students Not Meeting the National Minimum Standard

These students are monitored closely throughout these years under the guidance of the education support teacher who assists teachers in planning and implementing strategies into their programmes and classrooms. Students who fall below the benchmark have usually been previously identified through the school's on-going programme of testing and are already on modified programmes.

Intervention Plans

Students throughout the school are continually assessed against a set of achievement checkpoints. From this assessment, teachers are able to identify students who may be experiencing difficulties with specific literacy or numeracy skills. Teachers then prepare an intervention plan addressing these concerns and then modify their teaching programme to suit the student's needs.

Individual Learning Plans (ILP)

All students needing support in curriculum are now on ILPs. The support is for students who require some curriculum adjustment in any learning area or students who are eligible for funding or whom the school deems, in consultation with the special needs consultant from the CEO, to require significant adjustments to the learning program in any learning area.

Teacher, Parent and Student Satisfaction

During 2014 families, children and staff were all surveyed as part of the Quality Catholic Schooling Project/Programme. The results from the surveys were positive and provided us with an insight into areas that we could develop and grow. Highlighted below is some feedback which the school can celebrate as a result of the teacher, parent and student satisfaction survey.

Parents indicated that a celebration for our school is connection to peers; parents felt their child was accepted by and got on well with other students at school. Parents also specified that student engagement were to be celebrated; parents thought that their child was engaged within their learning environment that helped them mast a wide range of academic skills. Other strengths as indicated by the parent survey are stimulating learning and learning focus.

Students indicated that they felt engaged in their learning; doing well at school was very important to students, continuing or completing education was also important. The students stated that they felt connectedness to the school and learning was stimulating.

In the staff survey, there were three main factors to celebrate. Staff felt that there are strong parent partnerships. Parents are encouraged to form a positive relationship with the teacher and therefore support the learning that occurs in their child's classroom. Staff felt that student motivation was high and to be celebrated. Children are motivated learners that engage within their learning environment. The report indicated that teaching confidence was high; staff strongly believed they motivate students' learning and make a difference to the wellbeing of students. The report also showed that staff can effectively engage students in learning and they can optimise students' opportunities. Staff articulated the need for more clarity in communication with the leadership team and between each other. They felt personal enthusiasm for their role within the school, but also indicated that a greater sense of harmony could be achieved by everyone being on the same page. It was also acknowledged that when staff worked together it was easier to manage the children's behaviour.

This is an annual survey which will help the school continue grow and achieve the highest standard of teaching and learning. Throughout the year the school continued to implement suggestions given. Brighton Catholic Primary School will complete this survey bi-annually.
